

R.D.G.C. COURSE

PLAN - 1892

In 1886 Old Tom Morris improved the existing 9 holes and laid down 9 more to make the 18 hole course shown in the plan of 1892. Nobody now knows which were the original 9 holes but much fun can be had in working out possible layouts.

The 1892 course reached as far north as the present 4th green at which point it turned and came back, crossing over the beach "road" on to the present Struie Course for the final 6 holes. This course had little in common with the course of today and the only hole that is the same now as it was then is the 17th, the Witch's Hole, now the 18th on the Struie Course.
