

Dornoch... Something for everyone

Dornoch was created a Royal Burgh in 1628 and was the County Town of Sutherland. The Cathedral, now the Parish Church, was built in the early 13th Century but the site has been used since the 6th Century. The Cathedral was damaged in 1570, partly rebuilt in the 17th Century and restored in the early 19th Century.

Dornoch enjoys the enviable climate of the Moray Firth, Scotland's lowest rainfall area. The famous Royal Dornoch Golf Club is rated 11th best in the World. The town has many high quality restaurants and hotels and is the perfect small town shopping centre.

The Castle Hotel is the former Bishop's Palace and nearby is the Town Jail Craft Centre which features an exhibition. Most Saturday evenings in the summer the Pipe Band parade in the square and many other events are organised by local groups including the highlights of the County Agricultural Show in July and the Highland Games in August.

Besides golf there are courts, a bowling green and nearby at Embo and Golspie are swimming pools. The golden beaches offer safe sea bathing and river, loch and sea fishing can all be undertaken locally.

Opportunities for walking and bird-watching abound and much of the coastal area forms a nature reserve with many interesting birds and plant life.

Dornoch also makes the ideal centre for touring the North of Scotland with destinations as diverse as John O' Groats, Cape Wrath, Wick, Thurso, Kinlochbervie, Ullapool the Black Isle and Inverness all being within a days drive.

For the peace and quiet of a Highland Holiday there can be no better place than Dornoch.
