Police Stations and Houses

Last year the County Architect sent out a request for details of any structural defects in police property and as a result various reports were submitted to him. It appears that some of the defects reported may still be outstanding and officers-in-charge of police stations or houses will submit a fresh report, on the appropriate form for onward transmission to the County Architect, giving a note of the structural defects in their stations etc. which require attention. Reports will be addressed to the Chief Constable, Police Headquarters, Dingwall, and should be submitted to me as early as possible.

D. FRASER,
Inspector.

Distribution:- All stations and houses.
