

Tony Brett Young, Esq
Head of Public Affairs,
The Australian High Commission,
The Strand,
LONDON.

1st April 1997.

Dear Mr Brett Young,

I understand that there is to be an exhibition of cricket memorabilia to coincide with the visit of the 1997 Australian team.

As you are aware cricket is the second national sport in Scotland, and I am enclosing a photo of a typical Scottish country cricket match taken in the Highlands recently. The temperature was -2 degrees C if I remember and snow was forecast.

The Executive committee would like to make some memorabilia available for your exhibition, the team box for example (as illustrated). The only proviso (put forward by the married members), being that it is returned on Saturdays if we have a fixture.

If the Australians still have any blanks in their fixture list, Dornoch Cricket Club, which you will be aware is the most northerly cricket club in the world playing league cricket, would be happy to fill in. Again the only proviso being as stated in paragraph three above, and also that we provide the umpires.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you every success with the exhibition.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, consisting of a series of loops and a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Chairman.
