THE present Free Church at Dornoch was built in 1847. The building, though ample in size, is cold and draughty, and its seats are narrow and uncomfortable; indeed, the wood-work generally is in a dilapidated condition. For some years back the question of renovation has been forcing itself on the attention of the Congregation, and at a meeting recently held it was unanimously and cordially agreed to carry out extensive internal renovation.

Contributions of work or money will be received by Miss Macdonald or by any of the Stallholders or Work Receivers.

In name of the Congregation,

JAMES MACDONALD, B.D.

DORNOCH, FEBRUARY 1894.
